After months of exchange, writing recommendations, a lot of preparation. Our youth-led research on eco-anxieties found its voice in Brussels. For two days, 29 young people from Bulgaria, Ireland, Italy and Lithuania took part in the conversation on environ(mental) health, and brought it to the heart of EU policy-making. Last week, FOR YOU Association got the chance to attend the discussions held in the EU institutions. We presented our findings with our partners, and asked our questions to MEP Nela Riehl and Alina Stefania Ujupan, head of Cabinet for Commissioner Roxana Minzatu. The talks were direct, grounded and focused on the recommendation. The resulting policy recommendations that were presented are now available here, and we would be happy to hear your views :

The AMIR Project, co-funded by the European Union under the Asylum, Migration and Integration Fund (AMIF), is currently in the process of matching mentors and mentees for its upcoming mentorship program. This initiative aims to support the integration of Third-Country Nationals (TCNs) at regional and local levels, fostering knowledge exchange, capacity-building, and community cohesion. Launching this structured mentorship marks a key step in implementing practical, evidence-based strategies across participating EU communities.

The AMIL Project, with contribution from Italian partner Speha Fresia, highlights strategies and tools for social workers supporting the labour inclusion of Third-Country Nationals (TCNs). An analysis of the Lazio region shows strong employment opportunities in accommodation, food services, and commerce, but notable skills gaps in construction, personal services, and technical roles. Social workers often face challenges connecting TCNs to jobs due to limited structural links with employers.

MENTOR ON THE MOVE – MAKING SPORTS INCLUSIVE FOR MIGRANT WOMEN

The MOTM – Mentor On The Move project is an Erasmus+ funded initiative that brings together 7 organizations from 6 countries, led by Monaliiku (Finland, Spain, Romania, Greece, Belgium, and the United Kingdom). The project aims to make sports and physical activity a more accessible, safe, and welcoming space for migrant women and other vulnerable groups.

Through MOTM, we are working to strengthen the capacities of organizations and professionals operating at the intersection of ending unemployment, limited educational opportunities, health issues, lack of social networks, and language barriers.

The MOTM consortium recently held its second in-person meeting in Bucharest, Romania, organized by Sport for All Suceava. During this meeting, partners from all six countries worked together to align their strategies and share experiences, ensuring that the mentoring framework is inclusive, practical, and adaptable across different contexts.

News

Youth Green Compass is a European Youth Together project involving five organisations from five different countries (Lithuania, Spain, Italy, France and Austria).

The project begins with the creation of fun educational materials, followed by various activities directly involving young people who will contribute to a greener, more inclusive and sustainable Europe by acquiring knowledge, expressing their opinions and developing green challenges as solutions for their local realities.

Last month, Lithuanian coordinators Mano Europa welcomed ambassadors from the European Climate Pact – young people committed to raising awareness and promoting meaningful engagement in climate action. Valuable ideas were shared on how young people can become active agents of change in their communities.

Also in October, the partners met in Barcelona to plan the next steps of the project.

The main purpose of this meeting was to test the very first prototype of the board game, marking the transition from idea to reality!

ASES

SHIFT focuses on supporting Tunisia's TVET system in its digital transformation by promoting high-quality, inclusive, and accessible learning for all, especially vulnerable groups such as rural youth and women. The project aims to develop a digital LMS platform, train trainers and students in its use, and foster cooperation between European and Tunisian VET providers for long-term capacity building and innovation.

News

Last update about the SHIFT Project:

As part of the SHIFT project, significant progress has been made under Task 5.1 and Task 5.2, focusing on building the digital capacity of trainers and learners through the use of the newly developed LMS platform.

Task 5.1 – Training of Trainers (ToT) aimed to prepare VET teachers and trainers to use the LMS platform effectively. EU experts from BOSEV (TR), MAUDE (ES), and OpenCom (IT) traveled to Tunisia to deliver a comprehensive, hands-on workshop.

Building on this foundation, Task 5.2 – Users/Students Training on How to Use the LMS Platform was implemented at the local level. Teachers who had participated in the ToT sessions became multipliers, transferring their knowledge to students through a series of in-person training sessions. These activities were organized in collaboration with Elemtiez Formation and other VET centers. Two major training sessions were recently held, one involving over 100 learners and another in Jendouba with 66 learners.
